CRSA-Psi Iota Psi
Blue Grass Charity Regatta
September 15th, 2013

This is a FUN casual regatta with all the proceeds going to the Lexington Speech and Hearing Center. It is a chance for casual racing and especially beginners to learn a little more about racing. All activities are at the Twin Knobs Camp Ground/West End Group Area. The day begins with a breakfast from 9:00 AM to 10 AM, and a skippers meeting at 9:30. An after race meal is also provided.

The women of Psi Iota Psi do most of the fundraising by obtaining boat sponsors. CRSA provides the boats and captains for sponsors, and runs the races. If you would like to sponsor a boat, whether you race or not, please do so. This is a fund raiser for an incredibly good cause. The Lexington Speech and Hearing Center helps hearing impaired children learn to speak and communicate. Forms and details are inside this issue of The MainSHEET. There is no fee for racing. Please register early so meals can be planned.

Remaining 2013 Events

CRSA has quite a few fall events coming up. Enjoy semi-serious racing with the last two races of the regular race series, Race 7 and Race 8. Then enjoy some fun racing at the Blue Grass Charity Regatta. Keep the Grand Annual Regatta and Cookout on your schedule along with the Awards Banquet on Saturday November 9, 2013 beginning at 6:00 PM. More details on the banquet will follow.

CRSA Members Teach 2013 Sailing Camp for Girl Scouts

During the week of July 14-18 a group of CRSA members taught a sailing camp for the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council at the Clay Lick ramp near Camp Judy Layne. Ten scouts with their advisors had sailing lessons for four mornings. About 55 other scouts came out for part of their water sports emphasis camp in the afternoons for sliding and jumping off of the MMII. All the campers and the CRSA instructors had a great time, despite the 90 degree temperatures.

Saundra Newton, the on-site camp director, did the coordination with Charlotte Lubawy. A mix of camp counselors and lifeguards accompanied each group that came to the activities. Sandra was very helpful. The camp counselors and lifeguards were great working partners.

Instruction began with boating and sailing terms, parts of a sailboat, rigging the camp’s Barnett 1400 daysailors followed by capsizing drills. Righting the Barnett’s required 3 scouts working together. When the winds were completely absent to light there were rowing hull races and knot tying contests. When there was at least some wind sailing out around the buoy and back, interspersed with a little paddling on verbal signals when the wind died completely, proved to be a popular activity. Everyone wore life jackets in the water.

The CRSA instructors stayed at a cabin in the evenings generously provided by Steve and Di Morris. This was wonderful. Warm showers, air conditioning, a refrigerator for cold beers and chilling wine - almost heaven and not even in West Virginia.

Charlotte Lubawy provided the food. Homemade meals of Lasagna and garlic bread, Pork Ribs and Kraut over Mashed Potatoes, Texas Chili and grilled Angus Beef Burgers and Nathan’s Hot Dogs for the final evening.

Bob and Misty Hagan brought delicious wine. Ralph and Bev Merten brought wine, a cooler of gourmet beers along with pepperoni and jalapeno bread and fresh cabbage from Bev’s garden that yielded about a gallon and a half of delicious cole slaw.

Everyone had a great time. The camp counselors were dedicated young women who were patient and caring with the scouts and were very easy to work with. The scouts were interested in learning sailing and tying knots and were well behaved. The CRSA instructors cooperated to design games on the spot and fitting the wind conditions, then just jumped in and did a perfect imitation of the “A” team. It was a wonderful week.

Mark Breeden led the initial day of boat rigging instruction.

Bob Hagan and one of the camp counselors do halyard untangling in preparation for raising the main.

Capsizing (then righting) drills proved to be a popular activity. Nothing like a hot day, comfortable water and girl scouts who love the water to make everything go well. Winds were light so none of the crew had to demonstrate their boat righting skills.
Aaron Hagan provided on the water support with kayak tows to get boats back in light wind and making sure everyone was doing all right.

On a morning with no wind scouts did hull rowing races first with centerboard and rudder, then without centerboard and finally without centerboard and rudder. Talk about going in circles.

The MMII proved to be a good classroom for knot tying instruction. Scouts learned figure 8s, stoppers, bowlines and tie-off cleats.

Senior Counselor “Elvis” kept score in the knot tying contests. Making knot tying a game held all the scouts’ interest for a long time.

Bev Merten had the hardest job of all, leading the bowline knot tying instruction.

Now this is concentration.

With boats rigged and scout items on the beach there was a lot going on.

Ralph and Bev Merten brought a board game made by Bev’s father called Sequences that was a great game to play after a long day on the beach.

Help us celebrate the excellent work for children at the Lexington Hearing and Speech Center!
Youth Sailing 2013

CRSA’s five Opti’s were in hot demand by our latest crop of new sailors. Each of the eight students (ages 6-14) learned the basic parts of a sailboat, various points of sail, some knot tying, and how to have fun even when the weather wasn’t cooperating. Lilly, Glenn, Tomi, Levante, Nathan, Devin, Walt and Emma demonstrated their seafaring abilities by raising masts and sails, setting rudders and dagger boards, installing windlasses, and racing around the marks. It was amazing to see how well all the kids could sail! Weekly sessions were held at Jacobson Park in Lexington. Although a number of lessons were cancelled due to rain, we had almost perfect weather for young sailors when the water table wasn’t rising. To make up some of our time missed, classes will continue at Cave Run Lake this fall, as long as the weather holds.

An end of season party will be held at the lake late in September. The party will be a time to celebrate new skills, play some on-the-water games, race a bit, and throw a few burgers down the hatch. We’ll post a few more pictures of the party on our Facebook page.

The parents (and grandparent) of the students were absolutely essential in creating a successful season. Special thanks also to Chuck Emrich, Mark Breeden and to Ben Askren for running the youth sailing program this year. The club has generously invested in helping raise the next generation of sailors. Thanks to each of you!

Ben and Valerie Askren, Youth Sailing Chairs.

Distinguished - well mostly - CRSA Dinghies enjoying getting ready for lunch at the Signature Club of Lansdowne Cellar Bar and Grille.

Watching the America’s Cup Races?

America’s Cup races are on the NBC Sports Channel. This is NOT part of your basic cable package. But if you have it the channels on TWC are 549 and 971.

You can get updated information on the status of the races on your computer at: www.sailworld.com/USA/index.cfm?siteid=362.

Videos of the races are posted about 16 hours after the individual races on the web. You can find them by Googling “America’s Cup Youtube.” So far the Louis Vuitton Cup races have been posted. Watch. They are AMAZING!!!
CRSA Members Do A Little Ramp Trimming

After some persistent prodding by CRSA Rear Commodore Mark Breeden, the Forest Service allowed CRSA to trim a few of the overhanging tree branches at the Twin Knobs Boat Ramp. A group of hearty volunteers consisting of Mark Breeden, Lou Trost, Brad and Donna Leslie, and Bill and Charlotte Lubawy came to Race 6 early and trimmed as many problem branches as they could.

Lou Trost does an imitation of the Flying Walendas to get to some high branches, but fortunately without leaving the ladder.

All the removed branches were cut into smaller sections and transported deep into the woods.

CRSA’s Bob Summerfeldt Sails in Flying Scot Nationals

Bob Summerfeldt spent a week at Lake Norman just north of Charlotte North Carolina for the Flying Scot Nationals. Normally there are two days of qualifiers to place sailors in different fleets but because of light winds there was only one qualifying race. Bob sailed in the Challenger Fleet. Sixty eight racers, 34 in each division, raced in 5 races.

The Lake Norman Yacht Club hosted the event. Facilities are excellent and the club has a lot of experience with big events. Lake Norman is four times the size of Cave Run and the surrounding countrysides is pretty flat. Thermal-driven light air is normal.

Races are LONG with 2 mile windward legs meaning the mark is out of sight when you start. Courses were windward/leeward with windward offset mark and leeward gates. With 34 boats in your start, there is plenty of traffic to deal with! The best wind 8-11 knots was the last race when Bob finished a very respectable 4th.

Get Your Surplus Sailing Gear, Sailing Paraphernalia And White Elephants Ready for November Awards Banquet Auction

At the CRSA Awards Banquet on Saturday November 9th there will be a white elephant auction to raise money for CRSA Youth Sailing Programs. Set aside items now that you are not using and can donate to the auction. Both silent and hollering auctions will happen. If you have been to the banquets in the past you know auctions are a great deal of fun, allows members pick up some valuable merchandise at excellent prices, and raises money for youth sailing.

CRSA Auctioneer Al Lawton takes bids for one of the best - well maybe one of the most unique - items sold at the 2011 banquet. Gerard Howell holds a beautiful decorative bow carving, which incidentally made a priceless gift.
CRSA Looking For 2014 Officer Volunteers and Nominations

CRSA is looking for volunteers for the officer positions during 2014. Serving as a CRSA Officer is a great way to get to know more members and to get more out of CRSA. Here are some comments by Sally Shafer who served as Social Chair and currently serves as Membership Chair:

“A club like this works only because of the many people who volunteer to help out. When I was asked to join the board as social chair in 2011 I was not sure I would enjoy the job, but I figured it was my turn to help out. In hindsight, I am so glad I did it. Working to help the club has been great fun, and has introduced me to so many interesting people. Volunteer to help CRSA; the club will benefit and so will you.”

If you are interested in being a CRSA officer for 2014, or know someone who you think may be good, please contact Commodore Dave Davison at commodore@caverunsailing.org.

Positions on the Executive Committee that are open for 2014 include:

- Commodore: responsible for overseeing all activities and functions of CRSA during the year including establishing the calendar of activities for the year.
- Vice Commodore: responsible for overseeing the CRSA Regattas including the BG Charity Regatta and the Grand Annual Regatta.
- Rear Commodore: responsible for organizing the regular race series, assigning race committee, tracking results.
- Treasurer: responsible for keeping track of CRSA accounts, reimbursing members for official approved expenses, filing financial forms, depositing dues and race fees.
- Secretary: responsible for taking minutes at the CRSA Executive Committee meetings.
- Harbor Master: responsible for maintaining and inventorying CRSA equipment, primarily the Committee Boat the Margaret Mary II.
- Social Chair: responsible for organizing the spring and summer socials, the sailstice raft-up social, special events such as winter Trip-Tales meetings at local restaurants and the Annual Awards Banquet.
- Membership: responsible for keeping track of the membership list, sending out membership renewal notices, forwarding membership dues to the treasurer.
- Webmaster: responsible for running the CRSA website caverunsailing.org and instructing officers on how to update their sections.
- Cruise Director: responsible for organizing, or helping others organize a yearly cruise or two for CRSA members.

Positions not on the Executive Committee but reporting to it and appointed by the Executive Committee are:

- Newsletter Editor(s): responsible for editing, printing and mailing The MainSHEET. Some members get paper copies, most get email versions.
- Youth Sailing Chair(s): responsible for arranging and teaching the Youth Sailing Classes.
- CRSA Sailing Schools: responsible for ensuring the Beginning Sailing and the various CRSA ASA sailing schools are taught each year.
- Historian: responsible for keeping track of CRSA records and various documents.

No one person does everything themselves for their particular officer position. Every position has help and advice from previous officers, CRSA members and friends. The Executive Committee meetings provide a nice forum for advice on how to do things smoothly. Even if you have little previous experience, you will not be functioning alone.

Without A Boat But Want To Sail In A CRSA Series Race?

If you want to race, or just plain sail, but do not have a boat consider being a crew member. Show up at the Twin Knobs Boat Ramp parking lot a few minutes before 11:00 AM the morning of a regular race and the Race Committee Chair will put you on a boat. Bring your lunch and some drinks. Wear non skid shoes. Some sailing or work gloves will protect your hands.

Learn A Little About Racing By Being On The Committee Boat

If you do not want to actually be on a boat racing, but want to learn what racing is like and/or spend the afternoon lounging around on the water, you can join the race committee for that day on the committee pontoon boat and be in the SHADE. You can help raise and lower flags, record times etc. Nothing very complicated and everything is with some simple directions. Watching a race from the committee boat is a different way of seeing what is going on, learning the courses and start sequence. Meet in the Scott Creek Boat Ramp parking at 11:00 the day of a regular race. REMEMBER you must have a park service sticker to park in the parking lot. If you do not have one, park in the marina parking lot, and just walk over.

Apologies

Your MainSHEET editors learned some paper issues were shredded in the mail, and some were even delivered postage due. We apologize for this. We take the issues to the post office for weighing and getting correct postage so postage due is hard to figure out. Hard to know why some issues get shredded in the mail but we suspect this has something to do with automated postage equipment and we are unsure what to do about it. We will try to tape the paper issues differently to hopefully avoid shredding in the mail. Certainly placing the newsletter in an envelope would help but would increase our costs.

If you are getting printed copies of The MainSHEET in bad condition regularly please let us know at mainsheet@caverunsailing.org. We may have to be more aggressive in finding ways to correct this problem. But remember all members can get The MainSHEET delivered electronically AND in full color through email.

Bill Lubawy and Bev Merten,

The MainSHEET co-editors
Series Race 6 on August 17th had lots of action. Weather was wonderful in the high 70’s. Winds were light initially but came up to 8-11 eventually. A number of cruisers and day sailors joined in. Race Committee consisted of Brad and Donna Leslie and a member of Richard Moore’s family. New member Meredith Howell brought three friends who crewed on three different boats.

Your MainSHEET co-editor Bill Lubawy helped his new crew member, Ben on MissAdventure, experience almost everything there was in racing. They were first at a start and the most windward boat. They were last at the finish. They waited for Chuck Emerich to give a slight bump to their hull in a windward-leeward situation at a start so they could call a foul on Bound To Wind, only to realize that they were the windward boat and the foul would be on them. They turned onto a port tack near the finish line only to see Richard Moore coming in on a starboard tack. Richard had the right of way and discourteously took it. Of all the unexpected things to happen. MissAdventure had to exonerate her foul right in plain view of the committee boat. How mortifying.

After the race Brad and Donna Leslie provided a super social of fresh barbecued pork sandwiches, chips and drinks. The food was excellent. The after racing jokes, stories and merriment were a real treat. Special thanks to Brad and Donna both for being race committee and for providing the after race social.

Two unidentified racers did the “Sunscreen Two Step” before race 6. You can guess where in the song this happened. It was at “PUT YOUR LEFT FOOT IN.”

Race starts were tight all day. Easy to see why plenty of opportunities for fouls existed.

The race committee was very precise in handling the flags at the starts.
The run to the leeward mark spread out the boats.

Miss Adventure in another of those port-starboard situations. Fortunately this time she had starboard and was actually ahead.
